A good deal of the evidence in the case was repeated by the master of the junk, two sailors, and Inspector Corcoran, after which it was remanded until Friday, the ard instant, when proof of jurisdiction by the Chinese Authorities is expected to be forthcoming.

The bursting of the boiler was not, it would seem, the primary cause of the destruction of the vessel. As we suspected, the Erlogrous was too near Oshima, and was crowding on all steam to clear it. Her engines apparently were not of sufficient power to cope. with the g le and the strong current which sets in there, and she struck on one of the hidden rocks with which the shore abounds. The one engineer who has escaped; and whom we saw yesterday, says that she struck three separate times before the boiler exploded. The chief engineer was in the engine room at the time and was blown to atoms. The captain and the navigating officer threw themselves into the sea and perished. All those on board who were not killed or injured by the explosion clung to the three masts, which were still above water. Two of them appear to have succumbed to the weight; for first one and then the other disappeared into the waves and with them the men who had clung to them. The third mast proved the salvation of all those who survive that terrible night. Osman Pasha was on it and was pulled out of the water three times by his secretary, who was eventually saved. The Pashe, however, was either injured or, like the Captain and chief officer, did not wish to live, for on each occasion he slipped from the mast again and finally was

As far as we (Echo) can understand this has arisen out of the opposition of the small native banks to the introduction of the new silver ten cent pieces; and there is no doubt that such a currency would interfere seriously with the circulation of the 100 cash notes. The O. & O. S. S. Co.'s steamer Oceanic, Capt. M. Smith, with the American mail of the 4th ulto,, arrived in harbour last evening. We take the subjoined telegrams from our San Francisco exchanges :--

LONDON, August 27th. The Standard's St. Petersburg correspondent says:-It seems certain that the Czar declined to discuss Emperor William's proposals. It was remarked that the German Emperor was in a hurry to leave, his haste compelling the curtailment of the maneuvers and the court fetes. His hurry is attributed to socialistic activity and a rumor of insubordination in the Hanoverian regiment. An Italian aeronaut named!Berletti was killed at Idraeli through the bursting of his balloon. A treaty of commerce between Turkey an Germany has been signed at Constantinople.

PARIS, August 27th. The latest advices from Constantinople concerning the rumored attempt that was made to poison Ismail Pasha, the ex-Khedive of Egypt stated that it is still uncertain whether th attempt was unsuccessful. The ex-Khedive allowed himself to be tempted to the city by an invitation from the Sultan, and once inside Constantinople all idea of his ever being able to leave it had to be abandoned. Ismail was rarely, if ever, seen in public and when any of his old friends called at the palatial residence which had been set apart for his use they were informed that he no longer continued to receive visitors. The inference from this was that he was no longer master of his own movements, as otherwise this seclusion was inexplicable and inquiries now confirm this and show that Ismail was virtually under lock and key. It is known that Ismail took with him to paddles. Constantinople bonds payable to bearer, consisting of Italian rentes, Ville de Paris obligations and Credit Foncier bonds and others, amounting to nearly $10,000,000. The ex-Khedive became in time addicted to the morphine habit, and as: consequence of his excesses soon showed signs of mental derangement. He has evidently fallen into the hands of his enemies. It is at present impossible to obtain any details, but there is unfortunately every reason to believe that the former famous roler of Egypt has been removed in accordance with the old tradition of Turkish despotism. The Siecle says that the stipulation of England in the Anglo-Portuguese agreement restraining Portugal from transferring African territory to another power without England's consent constitutes a virtual protectorate over Portugal's African possessions. Portugal, the Siecle says does not intend to cede Lorenzo Marques to the Transvaal.

A dispatch from Buenos Ayres says that the situation is improving and that confidence in the Government is restored.

WASHINGTON, August 27th. Orders were to-day issued for the flagship Charleston, which recently arrived at Sentile Wash, from Honolulu, to return imm-distely to that port to assist in protecting American interests in the Hawaiian islands. This action is based upon Acting Rear-Admiral Brown's report on the serious aspect of affairs in Hawaii at the time of his departure for this country.

The only vessel in the new navy with which 25,000.00 | the speed of the San Francisco can be compared is the Philadelphia, both being of the same class and of equal tonnage. In June last the 144,000.00 Philadelphia, built by the Cramps, had her trial trip on the Atlantic, off Long island. On that 113.162.44 occasion her record was 19.67 knots an hour, or just' 1-100 of a knot slower than the time made by the San Francisco yesterday.

Philadelphia has been looked upon as the fleetest war vessel in the world of her tonnage, and the Cramp people took extraordinary pains in finishing her. The fact that the San Francisco has beaten the record of this crack ship is certainly a great victory for Pacific coast enterprise.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 28th. A terrific storm to-day flooded the rivers and canals of this city and vicinity. There is two feet of water in the lower streets of the city.

Three-lourths of the town of Kineshme has been destroyed by fire. The damage is estimated at 3,000,000 roubles. In addition to the loss of their homes the people are suffering from lack of food, and the greatest distress prevails. Serious fires are also reported at Orelandkursk. VIENNA, August 28th.

A distressing murder and suicide is the sensation here to-day. The city architect, Herr Saling, was disturbed at the attachment his eighteen-year-old daughter had formed for a Lieutenant in the Lancers named Fischer, and started with the girl for a holiday trip in the Tyrol, hoping thus to cure her of the infatuation.

Herr Saling and his family had reached Oexthal, a small village with one hotel, when th y learned that the Lieutenant was following them and before night he arrived and put up at the hotel where they were stopping." The parents of Miss Saling watched their daughter carefully that she might have no communication with Fischer, and for several days she was not out of their sight. Tuesday morning the young lady left her apartment to go to the breakfast-room, slightly in advance of her father, and on reaching the room occupied by the Lieutenant the door was surdenly thrown open and he sprang into the passageway, seized the girl around the waist, dragged her back into his room, placed a pistol against her temple and blew out her brains. Then, turning the weapon upon himself, he fired a second time and fell dead beside her. LONDON, August 20th. A dispatch from Rome states that a big socialistic conspiracy has been unearthed in that city. Dalton, as he is now known, is enjoying cheap glory twice a day—first, at the Aquarium, where he swims back and forth in a tank with many flourishes, and, second, in the evening, when he appears on the stage of Trecordo Music Hall, glorious in a swallowtail and South German accent, and assures the capital audiences "dot he did do big veat and will do him again." It has been calculated that if the captain swan across the channel at the rate he swims in the Aquarium tank it would have taken him forty hours instead of twenty-four, as he claims. James Finney, a rival swimmer, dazzled by the financial success of Dalton's scheme, has come out as a competitor and wants to race Dalton, while the referee offers that gentleman £100 to repeat his performance. Advices from Australia represent that the movement for a federal parliament of all the Australian colonies is gaining strength. Much discontent is felt with German progress in New Guinea. The people of Australia are complaining loudly of the inadequacy of their cable telegraph service. The breaks in the cable have been so numerous of late as to isolate the continent from the rest of the world for a good portion of the time. With this state of affairs Australians are lending a more willing ear than they might otherwise do to the scheme for a Pacific cable via Samoa and Hawaii to the United States or British Columbia. PARIS, August 30th. A reporter here is positively assured, on the best authority, that the French Government has decided to prohibit the importation of the entire list of American pork products and at the same time to raise the duties on all American products exported to this country. It is hoped that such an action will have the effect of changing what is called the present illiberal spirit of the American Congress.

Omessa is a wealthy newspaper proprietor who has a very handsome wife, and she fell in love with a French officer named Colonel Songlier. The husband heard strange stories and determined to learn their truth or falsity, and told his wife he was going away. He made all preparations. He returned at night and saw his wife receive the officer with a kiss and lead him into an inner room where supper was spread.

They shortly retired to another room, and the husband broke in with a scimitar, and after a struggle with the officer killed him and cut off his head, and then hacked his wife till she could be no longer recognized. He has been arrested. The action taken by M. de Freycinet, Minister of War, in prohibiting the use of foreign wheat in the army affects chiefly America and Russia, from which countries the outside supply cereals mainly comes. This is simply part of a series of measures which forbid that any contracts made with departments of the Government shall contain anything that is foreign in origin.

This policy is in direct evasion of the treaties of commerce between France and other nations. and is likely to create serious trouble. The system which has thus been gradually introduced has now become general, and has the effect of excluding from the country everything that can possibly be excluded that is not of French origin. The progress of the negotiatons for the entrance of Russia into the European entente is indicated by arrangements for the future meetings of sovereigns. Many of the people who have been hitherto content to peacenow rendered desperate by excessive taxation intensified by the exactions of the collecting long wanted, but to which he has hitherto been Weiguen, who, finding this a fine opportunity, does a little levy on his own account, have He has barred all the doors and windows on thrown up their lands, and joined the bands of robbers now over-running the whole country. KOREA:

The commotion created in foreign circles here on the arrival of the Hongkong Telegraph of the 20th August was something to be remembered. The tublication to which specially refer is the copy of extracts of a letter written on the 11th May, 1889, by Dr. H. N. Allen, the present secretary of the United States Legation here, to General W. Mac. E. Dye, the military instructor of the whole army of Great Korea, in which the learned missionarydiplomat, who was then in Washington, says :- "Blaine is willing to pursue an active policy in Korea and (private) perhaps ask for a United States coaling station at Port Ham Iton, thus giving the Koreans genuine backing. But first he must know that the Koreans have stopped their double dealing, and are ready to maintain their independence.

* * * This was made known to me two weeks ago and I cabled it at once, and fully, so that it was not necessary to answer you "yes" or "no," as you'request. Schufeldt thinks this is a very critical time for Korea. He will be a strong support to us if the Koreans are square, but unmerciful if they continue catering to China Schufeldt and I are delighted to see that the King is at last advising with you on general matters. An expert and capable adviser would have saved them great troubles." When your paper containing such positive proof of America's mischievous policy in Korea arrived, it created almost a panic. Dr. Allen, of course, denies the fact and says that it will turn out another "Pigott-Parnell" affair. I, on the contrary, who know you were in possession of the original of that important letter, have assured my friends that the whole affair is neither false nor exaggerated, and is nothing more nor less than unquestionable corroboration of my persistent allegations respecting Russo-American-Korean secret alliance. If Messrs. Allen, Heard, and Dye are held in office much longer it should convince the general public that there is a set purpose on the part of a clique at the Department of State in Washington to try and manipulate Korea for their own selfish ends-the destruction of Anglo-Chinese influence in this peninsula in favour of Russia. If, on the otherhand, those three politicians are "shunted," such action would show that the State Department discountenances, to its credit, their intrigues. Of one thing we may be sure and it is that Mr. J. G. Blaine will ever be profoundly grateful to Dr. Allen for confiding the secrets of America's foreign policy to General W. Mac. E.
